Drilling To Start At Once

Hercon Move Oil Rig To Abbotsford

A decision to move their oil drilling rig from Aldergrove to Abbotsford has just been announced by Hercon Petroleum Ltd. and Key Gas and Oil (1955) Ltd.

The company has now completed their intensive study of all existing geological information relating to the area south of the Fraser River between Chilliwack and New Westminster, with particular emphasis on the 45,000 acres held jointly by Hercon and Key under Permit No. 305, a press release to the Semiahmoo Sun on Feb. 1 stated.

As a result of this survey, and upon the recommendation of competent oil men, the drilling rig is being moved to LSD 16 on Sec. 2 of Township 13 east of the Coast Meridian. This location is considered to be more favourably located on the structure for the accumulation of oil. The well site is the south-west corner of Huntington Road and 370th Street, which is just off the south-west corner of the Abbotsford airport.

TO SPUD IN SOON

The rig to be used is a Cantilever-type with a 133 foot drilling derrick, quite capable of drilling to a depth of 8,000 feet.

It is expected that moving and setting up the rig will be completed within a week. The well, known as Hercon-Key-Evans No. 1, will then be spudded in and drilling started immediately. Officials of both Hercon Petroleum and Key Gas and Oil state that the hole will be carried to whatever depth required (estimated 5,000 to 8,000 feet) as rapidly as possible.

Local Group Apply For Membership, B.C. Hist. Soc.

A formal application for membership in the British Columbia Historical Society is being forwarded to Victoria from the local group who last October voted to form a section of the Provincial Society in White Rock.

The decision to ask for affiliation with the B.C. Society was taken at a meeting in the library on Monday night with Mr. John Buckley in the chair. Fee for joining the B.C. Historical Society is $2 per year which sum will also cover a subscription to the B.C. Historical Quarterly magazine. Five members is the minimum number required to form a section. Twelve members joined the local group on Monday night and it is expected that number will be at least doubled at an early date.

A committee was set up to work as a B.C. Centenary Committee. Members are: Mr. J. Buckley, Miss Ida Vye and Mrs. Corday M. Atkinson.

Mrs. Atkinson, as guest speaker for the evening, gave members some very practical advice on how to gather local history data.

Mrs. E. Rushton Cox displayed blocks of the historical quilt which she and a group of women are making in aid of the Scout Building Fund.

It was decided to hold the meetings of the local historical group on the second Monday of each month, the next meeting to be held in March.

White Rock Should Press For Ferry Service---Pitman

If Surrey joins the Greater Vancouver Industrial Development Commission, White Rock should press for establishment of a ferry service between that port and Vancouver Island.

This was the opinion expressed by Councillor E. A. Pitman during Council discussion of whether Surrey should affiliate with the Commission. Decision to affiliate was made following representations made by one of the Commission officials.

Explaining the Commission's work for the Greater Vancouver area Mr. J. Smuck, Commission representative, said all municipalities in the Lower Mainland including Vancouver, Richmond, Delta, Port Coquitlam and Coquitlam are members of the Commission on a contributory basis, supplemented by grants from the Provincial government.

After bringing industries from Eastern Canada to locate in British Columbia, the location is decided by consulting an-engineers who make surveys of various industrial sites offered. He believed construction of a municipal wharf along Surrey's Fraser River shoreline would soon attract industry requiring wharfage facilities. He spoke of two firms looking for dock facilities to handle 10,000 ton freighters.

Mr. Smuck promised a great industrial future for all Lower Mainland communities with possible establishment of an ore processing plant and custom smelters.

Mr. Smuck assured Council any request received from Surrey would receive whole-hearted consideration by the Commission.

Coun. Theo Kuhn said this Council has been fighting for membership on the Harbour Board since 1948 but we have never been listened to. One of these days we shall have to set up our own Municipal Harbour Board.

Mr. Groundhog and Mr. Robin

Bright sunshine of the past few days and robins returning early may not be the harbinger of an early spring many people hope for.

If the sun shines as brightly February 2 as it did when we went to press on February 1, Mr. Groundhog will see his shadow and there will be another six weeks of winter.

But maybe Mr. Robin's early return (a dozen robins were reported seen this week on one local lawn) is a more cheerful sign to go by.

Queen Scouts Go To Victoria in April

Approximately 100 Queen Scouts from the district of British Columbia and the Yukon will receive an invitation to Victoria for April 9. At least 3 White Rock winners of this highest scout award will be among those going, local leaders have reported.

With all expenses paid for the trip, the Scouts will be presented with their Queen Scout certificates by B.C.'s new Lieutenant Governor, The Honourable Frank Macdonald Ross. The presentation will take place in Government House.

Last year's Queen Scouts have already received their invitations to attend. All Scouts who pass the necessary tests for Queen badges by March 1, will also be eligible for an invitation.

Parents and all interested adults are reminded of the demonstration of Scouting activities being held in the Silver Moon tonight, commencing at 8 p.m.

W. H. Nevin Succeeds G. J. Archer as R.C.M.P. Supt.

Inspector W. H. Nevin, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Field, Royal Avenue, has just been appointed to succeed former R.C.M.P. superintendent G. J. Archer, now Chief of Vancouver City Police.

A telephone call on Tuesday afternoon brought the news to the local couple, Inspector Nevin and his family, who have resided in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, for the past three years, know White Rock well through visits here with Mrs. Nevin's parents.

Inspector Nevin will head the R.C.M.P. Vancouver sub-division.

Hospital Workers Join Employees' Union

Certification of 27 workers in the White Rock and District Hospital in the Hospital Employees' Federal Union, local 180, was granted on Jan. 9.

Nurses' aids, maintenance staff, kitchen staff, ward aids and office staff are thus accepted into the "180's" family, a report in the Hospital Guardian, published by the Employees' Union, states.

Organization meeting was held on December 14, following which application for certification was made.

Local executive members for the White Rock Branch of the Employees' Union are: Chairman, Mr. Ken Harris, Bayate Road; vice-chairman, Mrs. L. L. Burke, Victoria Ave.; secretary, Miss Ivy Cranwick, Kyle Court; conductor, Mrs. Eva Shields, Clow Road; and warden, Mr. C. Charles, Victoria Ave.

At one time 10 squares or sets packed the floor from stage to entrance.

Winners of the best old-time, hard-time costume were Mr. and Mrs. Prose, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bethall.

ity amounting to $44,177. Auto accidents numbered 701 with 6 persons killed and 213 injured, compared with 16 killed last year and 327 injured.

Council will contest the suggestion the municipality be assessed with Highway patrol costs as it is supposed they only operate Provincial Highways, and it is a provincial responsibility.

Council will continue to negotiate for additional R.C.M.P. personnel.

Perfect Crib Hand

Cribbage players in White Rock are developing quite a reputation for perfect cribbage hands. Latest one to turn up the "one in a million" chance is Mr. W. E. Poole, of the White Rock Hotel.

Playing on the night of Jan. 23, with Mr. Joe Ferris who also lives at the hotel, Mr. Poole held a Jack of Clubs, three fives and then turned up another five making the coveted score of 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole are spending their first winter in White Rock. They live in Oge-ma, Saskatchewan. It was Mr. Poole's first perfect hand after many years of playing.

Assist to Fall Fair Planned by W.R.A.C.L.

Mrs. Pearl Truman will discuss the proposal that the local Arts and Crafts League should assist the Surrey Fall Fair with an Arts and Crafts Section, at the regular monthly meeting.

The meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 8, at 8 p.m. in the Library.

Moving pictures on Arts and Crafts will be shown through the courtesy of the Surrey Film Council of which the W.R.A.C.L. is a member.

N.H.A. Sewer Ruling Protested

A representative of National Housing Corporation will be asked to attend next meeting of Surrey Council to explain objections to granting permission for building houses on individual cases where there are no centrally located sewer system. Frank McKinnon headed a committee from Cloverdale Board of Trade protesting decision of the N.H.A. in refusing recognition of an application to construct a modern home in Cloverdale.

He contended if the N.H.A. is taking this drastic action all over Surrey it will seriously affect Surrey's development.

Coun. Theo Kuhn said many houses in the Vancouver area have been built under N.H.A. where there is no sewer system and he objected to Surrey being discriminated against in this fashion.

Coun. R. C. Miller said there are 100 to 400 lots involved in subdivisions "there can be some reason for such action but not in isolated cases."

Municipal Library Idea Mooted

Rumblings of setting up a municipal library for Surrey were again heard in Council meeting on Monday when exception was taken to the allotment presented for Surrey in the 1956 Fraser Valley Regional Library budget.

Reeve R. M. Nesbitt stated Surrey's reading public is less than any other municipality in the region and yet has to pay about 25 per cent of the costs.

Surrey's assessment had been set at $25,200 but under protest had been reduced to $24,000 plus maintenance costs of White Rock and Cloverdale branches and Whalley deposit station. This budget was based on the per capita charge of 60 cents on the 1954 estimated population of the various member municipalities.

Salaries paid to officials at Abbotsford were also considered excessive considering the responsibility assumed.

It was pointed out Chilliwack City and Municipality is only assessed $8,000 and exception was taken to Surrey subsidizing other municipalities.

The Abbotsford office will be asked for a break-down of library costs in Surrey, before any other action is taken.

Brave New World of Numbers

News that the Lower Mainland Regional Planning Board hopes to have all municipalities, east of Pitt River and south of the Fraser, covered by one continuous numbering system by the end of 1966 has probably been received with mixed feelings in many quarters. This interesting piece of information was contained in the just published 1965 report of the Board. The report also expresses the hope that ultimately the house numbering system, conceived in 1901 by same expert "planner," will be extended eastward over the whole of the Burrard peninsula.

Already, as the report states, the system has been extended to White Rock. Pitt Meadows, Maple Ridge and Harrison Hot Springs. A specific request that the blessing of uniform numbering should be extended to that area. Burnaby has made a tentative approach to be included in the same benign circle.

Well, we suppose there is no accounting for tastes. Nor is there any way to stop the march of "progress" even if, as in this case, such steps mean more dreary uniformity and standardization. Clapham, we presume, are useful in vast institutions for keeping track of the growing multitudes within their walls, so they may come in handy for the predicted total urbanization and metropolitanization envisaged for the Lower Mainland by some observers.

We can only hope so. In the meantime we cannot help but regret the loss of historic and picturesque names from many of our village and city streets to any nothing of our rural roads, particularly in a region famous the country over for its magnificent scenery and unparalleled tourist attractions.

But maybe tourists will be so happy writing home from a motel situated on 154th Street, White Rock, as they would be writing from one on Sunnyside Road, or Sylvan Avenue, or Seaview Avenue.

A Busy Week

For special features the week between February 1 and February 8, this year will probably chalk up some kind of record.

To begin with, February 1 marks the birthday of Canada's Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Louis St. Laurent, who was born in 1882.

February 4, marks the opening of National Health Week, when children will be exhorted to brush their teeth more frequently and eat larger supplies of wholesome food. It is to be hoped that at least a few of them will turn from the increasingly popular coke and potato chips at a noon day school meal to old-fashioned whole wheat bread sandwiches with meat or egg fillings. Last year's Boundary Health Unit report pointed out that large numbers of school children in the area are undernourished. And this in a land of plenty!

February 2 is Candlemas Day, a church festival for many Canadians, or merely Ground Hog Day to others. And February 6 will see the anniversary of Elizabeth II's accession in 1952.

White Cane week will be observed from February 5 to 11. Sponsored jointly by the Canadian Council of the Blind and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the White Cane campaign this year has the slogan "The White Cane creates confidence."

In no way designed as a fund-raising campaign, White Cane week attempts to promote a better understanding of blind persons, their needs and their potential contribution to the community in which they live.

In this busy modern life in which we seem to be kept busier than ever tending the machines we invented to save us work, we might do well to pause a few moments and consider the significance of these special occasions and observances.

Ranging as they do from the physical to the religious and from the national to the commonwealth field, they emphasize important aspects of life for all of us.

Our Flower Emblem— The Dogwood

To those detractors who are inclined to scoff at the idea that British Columbia should adopt a floral emblem it can be pointed out that the tradition has an ancient and very honourable history.

How old is the British emblem, the rose? Certainly, at least as old as the Wars of the Roses, with their symbols of red and white roses for Yorkists and Plantagenets. Or what of the prickly but beloved thistle of Scotland, the shamrock of Ireland, the proud lilac of France?

True, as some people have remarked, the dogwood is not found in every part of the Province. But then what other flower can boast a more wide-spread growth, unless it be the lowly dandelion? Since 1951 the dogwood has been protected against marauding hares which might have wiped its moonwhite beauty from our spring-time woods. Since that date it has been illegal to cut or pick the star-shaped flowers on any crown lands in B.C. Even on private property it can only be picked with the owner's consent.

If the present legislative succeeds in passing the proposed Bill it will have done something to prove that the preservation and recognition of beauty is still worthy the serious consideration of the state.

It will also have ended a fruitless controversy as to what flower should be chosen as our Provincial emblem.

New Lieut-Governor Host to Boys Parliament

By T. J. LIRWIN.

The 4th Session of the 24th Parliament of British Columbia opened on the 17th of January, and the most outstanding feature on that day was the appearance of Lieut-Governor Ross. His Honour has a fine sense of responsibility and a nice conception of his obligations towards the people of British Columbia as has been evidenced by one or two actions since his accession. His invitation to lunch on the Boys' Parliament when it met in Victoria during the Christmas week, was a remarkably fine gesture and will leave a lasting impression on the young men who participated in that event.

During the nine sitting days so far, matters have been relatively quiet although there was a threat of fireworks in the initial stages by the Leader of the Opposition's reference to the Sturdy-Sommers case. This proved a somewhat delicate subject for the Speaker because he had to discriminate between criticism of the Attorney-General for alleged lack of action regarding an affidavit in this case and the fact that the case had been brought before the Courts in the form of a libel action by the Minister of Lands and Forests.

Again, Mr. Speaker stepped in and requested the House to tread lightly on the subject of Forestry in view of the fact that this matter is now being studied by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan. It must be clearly understood that there is no attempt here to stifle any discussion but merely to refrain from embarrassing the Chief Justice, and, it can be said, the House has been very good in this respect.

BUSY SESSION

The Members have been particularly active this Session with regard to questions and motions. At the moment there are some 21 motions on the Order Paper and around 88 questions. The motions are mostly dealing with the call for correspondence on various subjects such as flooding, relief for unemployment, and roads. Other motions deal with down-stream benefits from rivers common to B.C. and the U.S. The questions cover a wide range of subjects from the importation of eggs, butter and vegetables, scrap steel, the Oak Street bridge, civil servants and the collapse of the Mission bridge, to name a few items.

STUDENTS ATTEND

The most notable and outstanding feature of public attendance at this Session is the large number of high school students who are attending the various sittings. Up to and including Friday, January 27, there has been a total attendance of 308 students in the House and when you remember that the total accommodation of the two Galleries at the disposal of this office is 115, you will realize the interest that is being taken by these young people.

Letters To The Editor

In order to ensure publication, all letters should not be longer than 300 words, and must give the writer's own name and address.

Box 60, White Rock.

Dear Carey Bell:
Please accept my appreciation for the very worthwhile recipes which have been appearing in your columns of the Semiahmoo Sun. Have been filing all of them and to test the old saying, "The Proof is in the Eating," have been trying most of them as they appeared in the weekly paper. Congratulations! And "More recipes from your store for 1966."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Archie P. McLean.

Note: I feel the recipes prove what excellent cooks there are in White Rock. All the same—thank you, Carey Bell.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir:

Last Spring a group of volunteer workers did a splendid job of clearing away stones from the beach, and I note with satisfaction that more cleaning up is to be done during the coming Spring.

I would like to suggest that attention be given to vacant lots, which are held in speculation by non-residents. Many of these lots are permitted to grow up with weeds causing not only a distressing appearance, but also a fire hazard. The Municipal Council has the power, I understand, under the Nuisance West Act, to order the owners to cut such weeds and otherwise keep their property in good appearance, failing which the work can be ordered and charged up against the property on the tax account.

Nature is kind to White Rock providing climatic conditions second to none in the northwest, an abundance of growth and a wonderful southern exposure overlooking the sea. The natural setting is there for a tourist attraction of tremendous value, but Nature needs some human assistance, and keeping the vacant lots clean and tidy would help a lot to the attraction of the resort.

Yours truly,
E. J. COX.

UNDER AN HONEST FLAG.

Four words have been most prominent, not very long ago. No doubt you will recall them, back a few weeks or so. They were "under an Honest Flag," now you will remember. All the daily papers had them, not as far back as December—We all know what a Flag is, ensign, signal and so on. Can represent some present things, and others that have gone. Each country has its own Flag, no, on that point I'm all wet. This Canada of ours has none, which so many do regret. Now don't let us start an argument. Why stick our own necks out?

It's a controversial subject, you know that without doubt. One nation conquered this, another just grabbed that. All down throughout the ages. It has gone on, so then what. Let's relax and talk this over, not just to chew the rag. How many nations in the world, can display an "Honest Flag?"

W. F. MCCLINTOCK

The COMMON ROUND A.J.P.

THE HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY of the establishment of the Victoria Cross was marked throughout the whole British Commonwealth on Sunday, January 29. On that date in the year 1866, Queen Victoria issued the warrant by which the principles of the decoration were laid down. By the great Queen's wish the Cross was forever to be known simply as the "V.C." and be awarded "For Valour."

The Queen had been moved to institute what was to become the rarest and most cherished of all military decorations in the world by the acts of courage performed during the Crimean war, which began in 1854. Her Majesty insisted that the decoration should be made of monetarily worthless metal. Until the supply ran out in 1942 the Victoria Cross was made from guns captured at Sebastopol during the Crimean campaign.

NOW THE METAL is supplied from the Royal Mint. No Victoria Crosses are kept in store and each new one is specially struck.

In all, since the inception of this highest award for deeds of valour it is recorded that the Queen at first suggested it should be for "the brave" but changed her mind for fear it might be thought that not all soldiers were brave! 97 Canadians have been made recipients of the honour.

The story of the first man ever to receive the V.C. is not too well known, particularly here in Canada. He was Chas. Lucas, a Petty Officer in H.M.S. "Hector." During action at Sebastopol an unexploded shell from the Russian fortress, its fuse still burning, landed on the deck of the "Hector." Lucas, totally disregarding his own danger, picked it up and threw it overboard. It exploded almost before it touched the water.

Nor do many people know that this highest of British military awards can be won by foreigners, serving with British forces, or that it can also be awarded to a woman. So far no woman has won the coveted Cross and in all only thirteen hundred and forty-seven men have won it in the whole of the hundred years since the first V.C. was struck.

AMONG THE FORTUNATE FEW who have won this "tiny Maltese Cross," the pennyworth of worthless metal" have been, not only Englishmen, Scotsmen, Irishmen, Welshmen, Canadians, New Zealanders, Australians, and South African men, but a native Filipino, as well. A number of natives of India and a negro have also been made proud possessors of the award. Ages of men who have proved their valour in the face of the enemy and been awarded the V.C. have covered a span from a mere 16 years to well past middle age. Three men have won it twice.

ON OCCASIONS when decorations are worn by servicemen and officers, the Victoria Cross precedes all others but all that onlookers can see to mark the possession of this most coveted honour is a small, claret red ribbon on the left breast; derived from this is a plain bronze Maltese cross, and embossed on it, a lion over a crown underneath which are the words "For Valour."

The very simplicity of the medal is an expression of the simple and earnest desire of the great Queen to reward the valour of her soldiers in the field.

This and That

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

Then there was that Public Works man filling out a questionnaire about getting a change of jobs within the Department. To the question: "Who is your immediate supervisor at present?" he licked his pencil and wrote: "My wife."

Realist. He knows an opportunity as soon as he has missed it.

On The Bookshelf

CAROLINA HOUSE, by A. M. R. Dunlop.

An excellent English book designed to meet the teen-aged readers demand for mysteries is "Carolina House." by A. M. R. Dunlop. An antique silver bracelet, an 18th century ship model, and a crumbling mansion in Scotland were all that Carolina inherited when her father died. She had expected to sell the house and return to London. But Carolina House stood in a slum; there were no purchasers and the income from service.

Note: All books mentioned in this column may be borrowed through the local library or from the travelling book van service.

New Tool Rental Shop Opens In White Rock

Something new in White Rock which should prove a boon to many a householder pressed for time is the tool rental shop just opened in the Hilltop shopping area.

Situated opposite the Hilltop Post Office on Johnston Road the White Rock Equipment Rentals will feature power and hand tools for those "do-it-yourself" jobs around the home. Owner Glen Poole, at present residing in West Vancouver, expects to make his home in White Rock in the very near future. He is married and has four children, three girls and one boy, ranging in age from 9 to 2 years.

R.C.A.F. VETERAN

A native of Vancouver, Mr. Poole saw four years service with the R.C.A.F. in World War II, three years of which were overseas. He also has had ten years with the Federal Civil Service.

Asked how he liked White Rock, the proprietor of Equipment Rentals said:

"Both my wife, Doris, and myself are looking forward to the day when we will take up residence here where I am sure the friendly folk and atmosphere will leave little to be desired.

"In my new business, White Rock Equipment Rentals, I hope I will be able to render a needed service to the people in this area.

"The Welcome Mat is always out. We have the tools for rent and things to sell, but apart from that, we'll find the time for a friendly chat."

Crescent Beach News

A resident of Crescent Beach recently wrote to the Public Utilities Commission, Victoria, asking what obligations the telephone company has to its subscribers. He received a reply that the B.C. Telephone Company does not come under the jurisdiction of the P.U.C. and suggested that an enquiry be made to the Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa.

In response to this enquiry the subscriber was told that there are no existing regulations covering restoration of disrupted service, and apparently to drive home the point that resumption of service to an out-of-order phone rests entirely on the goodwill of the telephone company, the Board of Transport Commissioners quoted from the Company's Tariff C.T.C. No. 33, Item 40, as containing the following provision under the heading of "Obligations and Liability of the Company" — "The Company does not guarantee uninterrupted working of its lines and equipment and shall not be liable for any loss or damage that may occur in the event that service is interrupted by any cause whatsoever."

This seems to indicate a monopoly of service fees without a correspondingly binding obligation.

Life Underwriters Celebrate 50 Years

Life Underwriters Association of Canada marked its fiftieth anniversary on January 26.

Representing Canada's 10,000 life underwriters, several hundred representatives from every main centre across the nation gathered for the Golden Jubilee Dinner in Toronto.

Vice-President Leslie W. Dunstall, chief speaker at the dinner, pointed out that the life insurance representative has been given a remarkable transformation during these 50 years.

"We have established high standards of ethics and professional competence and have made steady progress in bringing life underwriters ever closer to those standards," he said.

The Association, which now has a membership of 7,575, sponsors the Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters which provides courses of education leading to the degree of Chartered Life Underwriter.

B.C. POLIO FUND HELPED HER SMILE AGAIN.

Mrs. June Newthorpe of Nanaimo, in iron lung at Pearson Polio Pavilion.

Life seemed over for Mrs. June Newthorpe of Nanaimo, when 21, when she contracted polio in 1953. A keen outdoor girl, she excelled in all sports, particularly hunting and fishing. The mother of a small son, Morris, she was expecting another baby. Paralysis was complete, and in an attempt to save her and the child, the Kinsmen's B.C. Polio Fund rushed her by ambulance to the Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria.

When she lost the baby, fretting and despondent, she resisted treatment. To cheer her, the Polio Fund gave her mill worker husband, William, an allowance so he could travel each day from Nanaimo to Victoria to see her. When her homesickness persisted, her transportation was provided back to her home, where the fund made arrangements to care for her and her small son, Morris, in her own home. Last Fall the fund arranged for her to go to Pearson Polio Pavilion in Vancouver, in another effort to overcome some of her disabilities. At last, after extensive treatment, her hands are gradually becoming capable of some movement.

ODDS AND ENDS

Most girls and women have at some time experienced the annoyance of having a favourite piece of costume jewellery leave ugly marks on the skin. I heard of a dandy trick the other day to banish this nuisance. Such pieces which discolour the skin may simply need a good brushing with soapy water. Then rinse and dry thoroughly and coat with colourless nail polish. This treatment also perks an old but treasured necklace or bracelet up marvelously and makes them look like new.

Or have you tried this one? On these grey winter days add a dash of colour to any room with a gaily painted lampshade. Coat the inside of any heavy paper or cardboard shade with aluminum paint. Then paint the outside any colour you like. The aluminum will reflect the light inside the shade and will prevent light shining through the brush marks on the outside.

If you are an indoor plant grower you might find this tip handy. A small extension curtain rod is just the thing to brace a tall-growing house plant. The rod can be pulled out as the plant grows.

AH! SPRING!

Does the sunshine these days make you think of Spring and spring-cleaning? Then remember a paint brush that is gummed with hardened paint needn't and in the trash can. Soak it for a day or so in a liquid brush cleaner, working the bristles occasionally to loosen the hard paint. Scrape or comb out as much paint as possible.

and soak the brush in hot soapy water. Rinse away all the soap and paint, dry, and the brush will be ready for that painting job.

Historically, painting can be traced back thousands of years. As early as 430 B.C., white lead was used by the Romans as a basic paint pigment. Since that time, the quality of house paint has been judged largely by the content of white lead.

So don't forget you are keeping up an age-old tradition when you get out the brushes and start to freshen up your home for Spring, 1956! Even the Romans did it!

SUNNYSIDE

Barney Butcher was admitted to White Rock and District Hospital last week for treatment.

Mrs. A. E. Basingthwaite spent the past week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Currie of Sunny-side.

Mrs. H. Meehan who has been a patient in White Rock and District Hospital returned to her home last week. Her friends wish her a complete recovery soon.

Bob Currie left last week on a trip to Windsor, Ontario.

The Crossroads Group meet for their February meeting at the home of Mrs. G. D. Oliver, 2643 Clow Road, January 13 at 8 p.m.

The P.T.A. of Sunnyside will meet in the school at 8 p.m. on February 8. It will be noticed that there has been a change from the third Wednesday of the month to the second. This decision was made at the last meeting. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have a member of the School Board address the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Butcher had as guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson and Mrs. Richardson's niece, Carol, and Lester Yost and Al Loremer of Vancouver, and Ben Richardson of Russell, Manitoba, and Fred Hawkins of White Rock.

Scots Society

Honour Rabbie Burns

One hundred and fifty guests sat down to the Burns supper on the evening of Wednesday, January 25 at the Silver Moon. When the St. Andrew's Caledonian Society for the Lower Fraser Valley gathered to do honour to their native bard.

The haggis carried by Dan McKay was piped in by Alex Ferguson. Mr. R. Crichton, president of the association, welcomed the guests. W. B.

Thompson said the Selkirk Grace and the address to the haggis was made by Alec McBeth.

George A. Caldwell proposed the toast to the Immortal Memory, and John Hunter a toast to the land of our adoption. To the toast to the ladies, given by Charles A. Caldwell, Mrs. Robert Crichton responded. At intervals between the speeches, songs were sung by Mrs. Wm. Paterson and Mrs. R. Tait and pipe selections rendered by Messrs. Ferguson and Mitchell.

The floor was then cleared for the dancing quartet, Marilyn and Donna Leslie, Diana Williams and Betty Crowe. Later came general dancing, Scottish and otherwise.

Sacred W.A. Pres. Will Speak Here

Mrs. S. Haverlock, vice-president of Vancouver Women's Auxiliary to the Social Credit League, will be guest speaker at the coming meeting of the local league.

To be held at White Rock Lodge on Thursday, Feb. 2 at 2 p.m. and take the form of a Silver Tea.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

It will soon be time to think of Valentine's Day and what nicer time there is to entertain, either for the youngest members of the family—or for those "not quite so young!" I always think this is one of the happiest of special days—with its lovely variety of Valentine cards all decked out in rosy-red hearts and paper lace. For an easily-made but attractive dessert for a Valentine party I thought this "Maive Pudding" decorated with whipped cream and red maraschino cherries would be most suitable. The recipe was given to this column by Mrs. George Ross of Marine Drive, Ocean Park.

MAIVE PUDDING

Mix one tablespoon gelatine (1 envelope Knox) in a little cold water and add one half cup boiling water. Stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved.

Beat to a froth with:

- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 1 cup Welch's grape juice
- 1 scant cup granulated sugar

Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and whip 1 cup heavy cream. Fold all together. Pile in your best serving bowl or in individual sherbet glasses and put in refrigerator and serve cold when set nicely.

Decorate with whipped cream and cherries if desired.

—Mrs. Geo. M. Ross

We Would Like You To Meet TOM E. SMALL

Sales Representative

Born in Shropshire, England and came to Canada in 1925 where he settled down to do some serious farming at Hanna, Alberta. Decided that a change would be a good thing, arrived in Cloverdale in 1933, where he continued to farm down on the Coast Meridian Road. Sold the farm in 1946 and joined our firm in the Real Estate Department, but later switched to Insurance where he has earned a reputation as one of the top producers in the Fraser Valley.

Tom is married, has two of a family, and the whole family take a very active part in sports leadership for the White Rock youngsters.

Around Town...

Legion L.A. holds Burns Card Party

As was a great time for the look from the land of the heather and their descendants, and maybe the descendants as well, last week as local groups joined in honouring the memory of Robbie Burns. Among those marking the anniversary of the Scottish poet's birth on January 25, were the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Branch No. 8, who held a Burns' card party in the Legion Hall. The head table was attractively decorated with silver candelabra, holding white tapers tied with tartan ribbons. Dolls, dressed as Highland lassies in their Royal Stewart and Buchanan tartans, danced among the heather around Robbie Burns' cottage, while a braw, gay Gordon kept watch. General convener, Mrs. M. Hazlett and her assistants, Mrs. I. Stude and Mrs. J. Hunter, wore tartan aprons and served panades, oat cakes, scones and shortbread. Mrs. E. Inglis was in charge of decorations. ### Carlson-Lorson Vows Said In Royal City

St. Peter's Church, New Westminster, was the setting on Saturday, January 21, when Rev. Father J. Sullivan repeated the vows for Nicole Marie Lucile Lorson and Gordon Alfred Carlson. The bride, who recently flew back from a three-month visit in Switzerland with her parents, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lorson, 1 Chemin du Calvaire, Fribourg, Switzerland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlson, Townline Road, Whalley.

BRIDAL ENTOURAGE

For the 11 a.m. ceremony the bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Paul Lorson, Marine Drive, White Rock, chose a wedding gown of chantilly lace, made in Switzerland. Created in full-length style, over bengaline fallie, with fitted bodice and skirt sweeping to a chapel train, it featured a lace bolero and lily-pointed sleeves. The silk tulle veil was held in place with a lace halo and the bridal bouquet was of blush pink and white sweetheart roses.

Maid of honour, Miss Marcelle Blomberg and bridesmaids, Miss Rose-Marie Anderson and Miss Rita Courchaine, wore contrasting net over taffeta gowns. Their matching bandeaux were trimmed with clusters of flowers. Little Shirley Frick, as flower girl, was dressed in white satin and her bandeau was entwined with snowdrops.

Best man was Lloyd Doherty and ushers were brothers of the groom, Harold and Wallace Carlson. Organist and soloist were the Misses Le Chasse of New Westminster.

WEDDING LUNCHEON

FASTER LONG DISTANCE CALLING

from Fraser Valley exchanges

Long distance operators in Fraser Valley exchanges can now dial direct to telephones in New Westminster and other automatic exchanges in the Valley. The result is faster long distance calling between these points. This improvement in service was made possible by a new type of switchboard and equipment, which went into service at the time of New Westminster's conversion to automatic service on January 29.

Here's a way you can further speed long distance service to New Westminster: All New Westminster telephone numbers have been changed to LAkeview 1 and LAkeview 2 numbers. If you do not know the new number, ask the operator for it—then be sure to make a note of it is a list of frequently called numbers.

In the Garden

By G. E. SERY, Garden Editor.

TOO MUCH WATER IS BAD buds have swollen they cannot be rooted successfully. Cuttings should be from vigorous plants of the current season's growth and made as follows: (a) cut the shoots into pieces 8 to 10 inches long; (b) make a square cut at the base of the cutting just below the bottom node; (c) leave at least one-half inch of wood above the top bud. Plant the cuttings as soon as they are made and place them six inches apart in well-drained garden soil with only two buds showing above ground. A fine lot of rooted cuttings should result. Because growth starts in early Spring, Autumn planting is desirable. Convenient planting distances are the rows six feet apart, with plants five feet apart in the row.

LAYERING GOOSEBERRIES
Gooseberries are not so easily propagated from cuttings, though successful rooting may be done by taking the cutting with a "heel" of the old wood. Layering is done by cutting back hard all the top growth of a plant in early Spring; then when after the many new shoots from close down to the main stem are six-eight inches long, in late Spring, mound the plant with soil until much of the new growth is covered. Keep the mound of earth around the parent plant and set in a nursery row for a year or set direct into a permanent location. This whole operation can easily be carried out in any garden.

The improved physical condition from tile draining results in proper aeration, increased bacterial action and increased growth. Keen gardeners do not mind mucking around a bit during the Winter months and drain digging is easiest just now. Four-inch tiles are suggested, though many three-inch tiles have been used for small drains. The floor of the drain should be on a uniform grade and even. Provide an adequate outlet first so that water will leave the tile freely. A two-inch fall in every 100 feet is the minimum and more is better. Drains should be not less than two and one-half feet deep and in moist garden soils not more than 30 or 35 feet apart.

Your garden will increase in value with the years through being drained.

CURRENT CUTTINGS
There is still time to take cuttings of currants, but do it at once. Currants begin to grow in early Spring and once the other Province in Canada. The increase in British Columbia over the past 10 years has been 13 per cent, compared with the next lowest increase of 41 per cent in another Province. One Province shows an increase of 282 per cent.

These decreases have a bearing on insurance rates. In a major city an example is a reduction from $90 in 1949 to $40 in 1955 for public liability, property damage, and collision coverage on a popular make of car.

"To look into the faces of our children is to see, as in a mirror, a reflection of ourselves.
